Taxes Nearly Equal Gas Co. Payroll

In a recent address covering general business in Arlington during 1935, and the prospects for 1936, Horace G. Taylor, Manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company said:

"During 1935 the Arlington Gas Light Company had an experience somewhat similar to the other public utilities. Business seemed to be improved throughout the year, there were more customers on our lines and the amount of our product sold, compared favorably with that of the previous year; yet at the end of the year we were making less money for those who had invested their savings in our industry. We are not necessarily disheartened, however, as we believe that 1936 will be an even better year in business and this improvement will enable us to better bear the heavy burdens, notably taxes, that we have been compelled to assume. During 1935 our company paid total taxes of $135,000. Of his sum approximately $80,000 and the remaining $55,000 went for state and federal taxes.

"The Arlington Gas Light Company is one of the largest employers in our town. We have at the present time about 125 employees, practically all of whom are permanent full-time employees. Our payrolls aggregate more than $150,000 a year and, while we serve four other municipalities, our main office is in Arlington and most of our employees are from Arlington. During the last year our company spent in excess of $60,000 on new construction in extending our mains and Jordan, Supervisor of Children's providing service for customers. Incidentally, at the close of the year and Milton E. Lord, Director of the we had more than 22,000 customers, a gain of 600 in the year.

Five feet, five and one-half inches tall, Miss Rogers has naturally blond hair, dark blue eyes and weighs 116 pounds. A true outdoors girl, she is a devotee of horse-

LOCAL SKATERS COME FROM BEHIND TO BEAT CAMBRIDGE

The Arlington-Cambridge Latin LOCALS SHOW game last Saturday was a slashing affair, with the local team coming from behind to win, 4 to 3.

In the first stanza a fine showing of defensive hockey was put on by both teams, but the second period Turn on Steam in Second was an entirely different story. Bob O'Reilly started the Red and Gray off with a bang when he turned in a beautiful solo dash the length of the ice and beat the goalie, Kramer, on the shot.

While Roger Keefe was in the penalty box for interference, Ray through the local team and scored boards. Once more Latin made connections, with Wally Boudreau carrying to the defence before he the shot from about 15 feet out.

With Cambridge leading 2 to 1 in the last minute of play, Johnny Chipman picked up a loose puck at scrimmage, split the defence, and to gain an extensive lead in the scored the tying goal as the bell son of Latin combined to tie the score once more. It looked bad for Arlington to pull a win out of the bag, but, with more than a minute left to play, Roger Keefe sank one into the twine from 30 feet out. This shot put the game on the proverbial ice for Arlington.

SPORTS ADVOCATOR

The second-place Arlington high hockey team will play the leagueleading Stoneham team next Saturday afternoon at the Boston Garden. This should be the best game of the entire season.

Arlington boasts the biggest defense in the league. Bob O'Reilly is 6 ft. tall and weighs 170 lbs. Bill Lane is not quite as tall as O'Reilly but weighs the same.

Don't miss the baskethall game Friday night at the high school. The Red and Gray meets the Red Devils from Chelsea. In their first meeting this year Chelsea won, so Charlie Lowder and his boys will be out for revenge.

-0-Bart Madden, quarterback for the high school, is not competing in any winter sports this year. He is going to take a rest for the coming baseball season. While playing football he received an injury to his knee. This rest will give it plenty of time to heal.

-- 0 --Joie Lax, former high school star is now playing hockey with the Boston Olympics. His brother John is now in Germany with the American Olympic team."

NO MERCY TO LOWLY BELMONT

Half and Scald Neighbors 29 to 9.

The Arlington High quintet overwhelmed a stubborn Belmont team last Monday afternoon at the Arlington High School auditorium by a score of 29 to 9 The Arlington-Chaisson of Cambridge zig-zagged ites led throughout the game and were never threatened. Little Will on a shot from the right hand Hawkes was the star for Arlington, registering 9 of his team's points. Hawkes has been on the second team for the past two years, but passed to Cliff Robillard who sank has been improving steadily and is now considered a regular.

Led by the diminutive Charlie Lowder, the Red and Gray passed Belmont dizzy, but could not seem first half. Then the change came in the second. INFANTILE PARALYSIS

With the approach of the President's Birthday Ball, January 30, and the intensified determination to stamp out Infantile Paralysis, it may be of interest to review what has already been done in Arlington to relieve and cure its victims here in town.

In August, 1930, Arlington had 14 new cases. In November an appeal came from the Harvard Infantile Paralysis Commission that there be established here a local clinic for children then being treated at the Children's Hospital, and thus spare them the hardships of transportation. This appeal was turned over to the Arlington Visiting Nursing Association. The Association was able to furnish a room, heat and light, but had no funds to finance the worker to be sent out by the Children's Hospital.

The Association then appealed to the trustees of a small fund, left over from the Radensborn Home which cared for crippled children some 25 or 30 years ago. This Home, a local one under the auspices of the Good Samaritan Society, had became unnecessary by the expansion of the Children's Hospital work. As this fund was primarily for crippled children, the co-trustees, Mrs. James A. Bailey and Mrs. William F. Homer, gladly cooperated and have financed the clinic for five years. Very recently the Nursing Association was notified that at the end of this year the fund would be exhausted and other means of supporting the clinic would have to be found. The President's Birthday Ball provides the way. Arlington need not abandon this splendid work.

Perhaps a few facts about the clinic may be worth while. The average yearly enrollment is 14 children. Eight of the 14 should have weekly supervision of treatment and come to the clinic regularly; the others come once in two weeks or once a month. Three have had operations this year and are receiving post-operative treatment; one is having treatment in preparation for an operation. Three wear apparatus to support a paralyzed arm; three have two long leg braces, two of them also needing crutches. The children who wear apparatus are going to school regularly, except for time out for operations. Each year since the clinic started has brought new cases.

Seventy percent of the proceeds of the Ball will be used locally, the remainder going to aid the work at Hot Springs. Arlington does not intend to make the ball a political rally. It is to be used solely for raising funds for a great work. Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, Townsendites alike, are giving their support.

NEWS BRIEFS

A unit of 1200 Alpine troops embarked for East Africa; 6,500 have already preceded them. It is said a few soldiers mutinied and were shot. Il Duce must act quickly or be check-mated by rains, already embarassing troops in Ethiopia.

Four British battleships are withdrawn from the Mediterranean. Ninety-two French warships will enter the troubled waters, just to play around. Il Duce is satisfied but the general public is uneasy.

The Naval Conference is sailing "ruff" seas. Japan's demand for parity for the three leading naval powers is the only solution from her point of view. Says her spokesman, "Japan alone is for real disarmament."

Adolf Hitler will draft all German boys and girls over ten years of age into an organization to serve National Socialism, called "State Youth". Membership will be compulsory. Twelve million children are affected.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt remains optimistic! Says she: "There may be more threats of war than of peace, but I feel encouraged about the outlook; peace is growing a mile a minute and the determination to end war is increasing by leaps and bounds while militarists are getting frightened lest they lose their vocation." Roger W. Babson in a recent address said that "We can enjoy a period of business prosperity and at the same time suffer a declining standard of living." We still Arlington's chance to make the have 11,500,000 unemployed—as many as when Roosevelt was elected in 1932 notwithstanding the billions; which have been spent. He finds factory production up to normal and in many instances up to the peak of 1929. The building industry is the cause of unemployment. Babson states that in 1925 homes were built for 500,000; in 1934 for only 22,000 families. He deplores the fact that people now do not desire homes. They prefer horse racing, dog racing, drinking and gay parties. He sums up the situation:

"America is ruled by feelings, not by figures. Big business can make goods cheap, but it cannot make people buy. Notwithstanding our great technological inventions, sales executives are helpless unless these savings in production costs are passed on to consumers and unless the consumers have a desire for your goods.

Here and There

Had to split the reporting staff last Friday night, and we missed the minstrel show, much to our regret. The dates of "Dead of Night" were published in our coming events column for the previous five weeks, and we suggest that the conflict could readily have been avoided.

We also suggest that from now on no one ask this correspondent to have anything to do with a play during the month of January, because he is most certainly jinxed. Last year his "Swift Sword" opened on January 23, the night of the worst blizzard in sixty years. The opening night (Thursday) of "Dead of Night", which he directed, started like a repetition, as far as weather was concerned. The prospective audience could not tell that the business-like blizzard was going to turn to rain. It looked like a typical P. Wood opening, and people remembered that the only way Rev. Mr. Barber got out last year was on his

We mentioned the fact that there seemed to be as many hats tossed toward the rings as over the goal post after a Harvard-Yale game. but nothing had been heard from the former Miss Pierce as to whether she intended to run for re-election or not.

Now things are different. Bill Barry's is the only hat sitting squarely in the rosin, while one other, John Winner's, is teetering on the edge, ready to fall in or out, according to the disposition of the Citizen's Committee. But on the other hand, we have a definite statement from Town Clerk Mrs. Fairchild. She returned to the Town Hall this week and we asked her point blank whether or not she intended to run again, and the answer was a definite "No."

That seems to settle that, but it hardly settles the matter of her successor. Don't think for a minute that there will be only two candidates. The town clerk's position is too good a job to pass up without a struggle on the part of several, even though there will undoubtedly be a reduction in salary for the new holder of the office.

I would like to be enlightened as to just what kind of justice the writer has in mind, if he does not know or care whether Il Duce is right or wrong. The reasoning here seemed to be almost too vague even for an "elementary" mind. Why "raise voices to high heaven" for a justice that is no clearer than that? Isn't it rather a waste of effort?

Mr. Riccardi says in part: "We in America are not concerned whether Italy is right or wrong in her colonial demonstration. THAT'S MUSSOLINI'S BUSINESS. We don't care whether any nation, that sought supremacy was justified in plundering and murdering brutally, the news might make good reading matter otherwise it is of no import to us, it is none of our business."

It is perhaps unfortunate that a lot of us cannot share with this group such a primeval attitude.

I, for one, am greatly concerned whether any issue upon which I have to take sides is right or wrong and because I have a warm spot in my heart for the place of my birth, I am especially interested in whether Mussolini dictatorship is right
